3. In the old age

3 equal voices a capella

Text : W. Shakespeare
Music : Erika Budai

In the old age black was not coun-ted fair, or if it were it bore not beau-ty's

In the old age black was not coun-ted fair, or if it were it bore not beau-ty's

In the old age black was not coun-ted fair, or if it were it bore not beau-ty's

name. But now is black beau-ty's suc-ces-sive heir, and Beau-ty slan-der'd with a bas-tard's

name. But now is black beau-ty's suc-ces-sive heir, and Beau-ty slan-der'd with a bas-tard's

shame.   In the old age shame, and Beau-ty slan-der'd with a bas-tard's shame. In the old age

black was not coun-ted fair, or if it were it bore not beau-ty's name. But now is

black beau-ty's suc-ces-sive heir, and Beau-ty slan-der'd with a bas - tard's

black beau-ty's suc-ces-sive heir, and Beau-ty slan-der'd with a bas - tard's

shame.
